THE YEAR IS 2025.

You've built your business from the ground up—whether you've been at it for years or just recently thrown your hat into the entrepreneurial ring. You wear all the hats: CEO, customer service rep, inventory manager, bookkeeper, HR, and occasional janitor when someone spills coffee in the lobby.

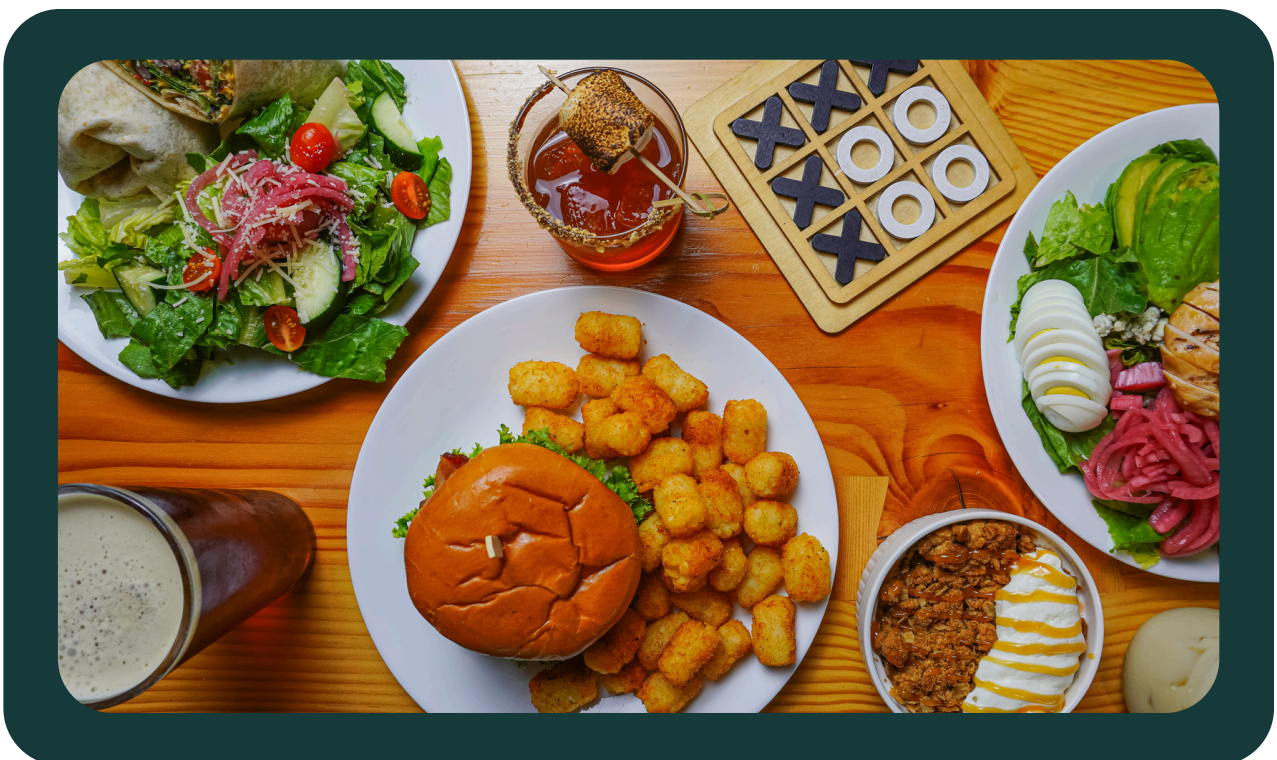

And now... NOW... society has decided that on top of all that, you also need to be a full-time content creator. Oh yes, because it's not enough to just be good at what you do anymore.

Now, you have to film it, edit it, caption it, hashtag it, trend-hop, SEO-optimize it, and then—after hours of your precious time—you post it, and what happens?

Crickets.

Your "Call Now" button collects more dust than engagement, and instead of focusing on what you do best, you find yourself Googling, "Best Instagram reel trends for 2025" at 2 AM while questioning all your life choices.

Except, let's be real...

You don't have time for that. You're busy running a business. And even if you did have time, do you really want to spend it figuring out the difference between a Reel and a Story, or why some 19-year-old marketing guru is telling you to lip-sync to a viral sound?

That's where I come in. At MJ Media Productions, I don't manage your accounts or schedule your posts. What I do is create high-quality, eye-catching photos and reels that make your business look polished and professional—so when you do post, it actually works.

- ✓ I shoot and edit stunning content that aligns with the latest trends.
- ✓ I make sure your visuals match your brand and attract your ideal audience.
- ✓ I give you expert guidance on social media best practices, so you're not just guessing what works.

That means no more awkward, low-quality DIY videos or scrambling to throw something together last minute. I handle the creative heavy lifting—you just take the final product and post it when it makes sense for your business.

So, why keep struggling through the content chaos?
Let me handle the visuals while you focus on what you actually love—running your business.

20 pieces of content per month.

Mix of edited photos and reels.

Uploaded to DropBox for easy downloads.

$500/ month. 1 year contract.
